

???????? ???? ?????????????????

The diagram illustrates the hierarchical structure of a 128-bit data stream, partitioned into 8 segments of 16 bits each, labeled 12-1 through 12-8. Each segment is further divided into smaller units, represented by rectangles of varying sizes, indicating a recursive or fractal-like structure. The diagram shows how the 128-bit data is partitioned into these segments and their sub-units.