A horizontal row containing seven groups of ten empty rectangular boxes. Each group is intended for a two-digit number, with the tens digit in the left box and the ones digit in the right box.

The diagram consists of three columns of binary strings. Each string is a horizontal bar of black squares. A minus sign '-' is placed between some strings and a bar of white squares to their right. The strings are arranged in three columns:

- Left Column: 10 rows of binary strings.
- Middle Column: 10 rows of binary strings. The first 9 rows have a minus sign '-' followed by a bar of white squares. The last row has a minus sign '-' followed by another binary string.
- Right Column: 10 rows of binary strings. The first 9 rows have a bar of white squares to their right. The last row has a minus sign '-' followed by a bar of white squares.
